It's a Quaint, Attractive, Reliable Weather Prophet

This instrument is made on scientific principles—The figures which prophesy the weather are suspended on a platform, with a piece of cat gut which is very sensitive to atmospheric changes, and is so adjusted that when the figure of the little old witch comes out of her door rain or snow with stormy weather is sure to come. When the figures of the children come out of their door, fair weather is bound to follow.

This house is made of hard wood and is nicely decorated in front with a stag's head, a bird, glass windows, and has a reliable thermometer between the doors. On the green stone covered roof is a starling's cage. All in all it is a very neat and useful decoration for your porch.

PLANTING OF MEMORIAL TREES IS DISCUSSED

By Kiwanis at Their Luncheon Meeting Yesterday.

Planting of memorial trees along the Harding highway for World war veterans was discussed at the weekly noon luncheon of the Marion Kiwanis club Thursday at the Busy Bee cafeteria. Sufficient season tickets were purchased to provide a fund of $100 for the football team of the American legion and attention of the members was directed to the fact that officers for the coming year are to be elected in November or early in December.

A. A. Dinsmore, of Troy, presented recommendations regarding the variety of trees best suited for planting along the highway and J. E. Phillips suggested that the support of Morrow and Crawford counties be secured in order to plant trees all along the highway from Gallon to Lima. It was decided that Walter E. Hane, commander of McGinnis Post, American legion, take up the matter with the Mt. Gilead post. Dr. James Wilson McMurray, president of the club, announced that the tree planting project will be taken up by a committee.

William E. Weston, county surveyor, and Walter E. Hane were added to the membership of the tree planting committee.

Walter E. Hane announced that McGinnis post is organizing a football team, which, it is expected, will begin practice this week and play its first game in about three weeks. He said the athletic committee was in need of $100 for the purchase of sweaters and stockings for the players and asked that the club members finance the team either by a loan of $100 or the purchase of season tickets at five dollars each, these tickets providing for two admissions at each home game. In a short time a sufficient number of tickets was taken to provide the fund.

An invitation was received from the Gallon club to attend a clam-bake September 21 at Segalium park and attention was called to the dates of the state meeting at Lima, September 26, 27 and 28.

Drawing for the "silent boost" occasioned not a little merriment. The awards were two bath sprays given by the Rexall Drug store, G. W. Jakeway held the slips and Ernest C. Carl drew the names. In this drawing G. W. Jakeway and Dr. James W. McMurray won. At the suggestion of Mr. Jakeway, another drawing was had. This time Frank C. Gogenholmer drew the names of Ernest C. Carl and himself. Finally a motion that the brushes be presented to Mrs. Esther Mack, Red Cross nurse, for donation to needy persons, was passed.

Boringer at Bucyrus. H. H. Berringer is in Bucyrus today assisting in the drafting of a constitution, by-laws and form of contract for the North Central Ohio Cooperative Dairy Sales company, recently organized at a meeting in Marion. Seven counties were represented at the meeting here and it is expected that ten counties will become affiliated with the company.

PRESIDENCY OF HARDING HIGHWAY IS DECLINED

"Not Wholly Seemly for Me To Accept"

HARDING WRITES HEAD OF MARION KIWANIS

a Deeply Sensitive of the Honor and Stands Ready To Contribute to Fund.

An invitation extended to President Harding to become honorary president of the Harding Highway Memorial Tree association has been declined by the president in a letter just received by the president of the Marion Kiwanis club.

"I have yours of September 2 in which you advise me concerning the action of the Kiwanis delegates in making me the honorary president of the Harding Highway Memorial Tree association," President Harding's letter reads. "I am deeply sensitive of this honor and would like our Kenton brethren, as well as the Kiwanians at home, to know of my appreciation. I really think, however, that it is not wholly seemly for me to accept. If the movement contemplated a memorial to the nation's defenders in connection with any highway other than that which seems to be named for me I could enter upon an honorary service with a real becoming the work in hand. I think you can realize how difficult it is for me to undertake the work in any official capacity in connection with this highway. Though I do share your wishes to make it not only a most attractive highway, I would like the tree planting to develop into an abiding and most gratifying memorial to our soldiers. I wish you would convey the substance of this letter to Secretary Toynton at Kenton. It will be more convenient for you to express to him my attitude than for me to write directly.

"Please know how grateful I am for the proffered distinction and please know too how genuinely interested I am in the success of the undertaking. I think I can do a more practical thing than serve as honorary president. If you will advise me at the time of your campaign for needed funds for such work I will be more than happy to become a contributor."

RESIGNATION OF AIR CHIEF

pronounced that General Mencher's resignation resulted.

The difficulties between General Mencher, who is not a flying officer and General Mitchell, who is a flying officer of note, first arose through Mencher's policy of putting non-flying officers in high administrative positions in the air service.

General Mitchell objected to this policy as detrimental to the morale of the air service and insisted that flying officers be given recognition in administrative positions. Their differences hinged on an interpretation of an article of the national defense act, which stipulates the number of non-flying officers in the air service.

The difficulties became so pronounced that the matter was put up to the judge advocate of the army and he rendered a decision favorable to General Mitchell's side of the controversy. General Mencher's demand that Mitchell be relieved of command came a short time later.

Strong Differences.
More recently there have been strong differences of opinion concerning the results of the recent bombing tests off the Virginia capes. Mitchell's strong advocacy of the aeroplane as against the battleship in modern warfare aroused the resentment of navy officers and his views were not shared, either, by some army officers.

It was charged that Mitchell did not conduct the tests "fairly" and that the conclusions which he drew from the "bombing tests were unfair to the navy" and "misleading to the public generally."

To these criticisms General Mitchell's friends replied that it had been demonstrated in actual tests that a modern battleship could be sunk by aerial bombs in fifteen minutes and that the facts spoke for themselves.

The resultant controversy has been heated since the completion of the tests and has kept both army and navy circles in Washington in a turmoil.

DOOR TO IRISH PEACE IS Ajar

Responsible Sinn Fein leaders said they believed that, despite the deadlock, there would be a further exchange of notes.

The negotiations were not ended by the premier and the Sinn Fein.

look for a further interchange of communications before it is determined whether the Irish armistice will be broken off.

A Development.

London, Sept. 16.—Arrangements for the proposed Irish peace conference have been canceled, but the negotiations still are not ruptured. This was the day's surprising development in the Irish situation.

Eamonn De Valera, the Irish republican leader, having reaffirmed his claim to enter the conference as the representative of an independent sovereign state, Premier Lloyd George declared that such admission is impossible. He announced the cancellation of the arrangements for a conference and the necessity of his consulting his colleagues on the subject.

The premier was careful not to close the door to possible resumption of the negotiations. On the contrary he gave De Valera and his supporters the amplest time and opportunity to reconsider their position; he described himself as "aid-up" at Gallooch, necessitating a few days' delay. He is suffering from a chill.

Declaring that there was but one answer to a claim which would be equivalent to Great Britain's acknowledging Ireland's right to negotiate a treaty of closer association with "some other foreign power," in his reply he mildly reproached the Irish people for taking no single step to meet the generous advances of the British government.

The whole tone of the letter, in fact, revealed that the premier still retains hope of some more favorable development. Incidentally the premier's letter cleared up the mystifying events of the last few days, showing that De Valera's reply was taken by McGrath and Deland to Gallooch, but that the premier tried unsuccessfully to persuade modification of its tenor and offered to regard it as having not been delivered.

That De Valera and his colleagues failed to take advantage of this offer is considered an adverse factor and lends a serious aspect to the situation. The prospect is that there will be no move now from either side for a few days.

Still in Progress.

London, Sept. 16.—"So far as we are concerned, the peace negotiations are still in progress," declared Art O'Brien, Sinn Fein ambassador to London, today. O'Brien is head of the Irish Self-Determination league and frequently acts as courier for the Sinn Fein cabinet at Dublin.

HE'LL NEVER FORGET HIS GAME YESTERDAY

He Will Be Playing Up Until the Ninth Inning on October 2, He Says.

[BY HARRY RUTH.]

New York, Sept. 16.—I am not through yet. Having previously tied my home-run record at Philadelphia, the greatest crowd in the history of the polo grounds expected to see me hang up a new record last Sunday, but you can't knock home runs when pitchers deliberately pass you five times in an afternoon. After plunking away all week I was really rewarded in our double-header with the St. Louis Browns yesterday. I'm not through yet and won't be until the ninth inning of our closing game October 2. I'll never forget yesterday's thrill. Next season I might knock 100 or, if the Yankees clutch their present lead, I might be conspicuous in the coming world's series, but I never expect another baseball thrill like Thursday's. The minute "Lefty" Bayne let go of the ball, I said to myself, "Here comes No. 55." It was the funniest home run feeling I ever experienced. My arms and legs all seemed to sense what was coming to happen. Even Elmer Miller on base at the time seemed to catch the spell and started for the old homestead as though he had a guarantee I would deliver. Then the big thump and the fans cut loose.

I never heard such whooping. I never saw so many strawhats sailing through the air, and, best of all, I never received such a reception as the boys gave me in the Yankee dug-out.

Take it from me that was the thrill that counted. Fans who have followed my home runs are undoubtedly now asking two questions—"How Many more Will He Hit?" and "Can He Repeat Next Year?" Answering the first query, recall what I hear so often that I was foolish for making so many last season, that I ought to have stopped around forty to make it easy this year.

I guess these same fellows think I ought to stop now to make it easy for next year. Well, I might be foolish, but I am getting a lot of fun out of hitting as many as possible and at the same time on the level with the fans. I might get six more or I might get nine, but I'll keep on swinging until that pennant goes to Cleveland or New York. All season through these columns I have answered questions from fans. Now it's my turn to ask one. I'd like to know how many fans in Marion would gamble five cents on my chances of hanging up another home-run record next year, of course, since today, thousands are saying "I Told You So," but I have a hunch that some of these very fellows were panning my weight last April and counting me out in May. It's not so very long since some of the folks were grooming my friend George Kelly for the home-run crown. I don't blame the fans. I had a tough undertaking ahead of me this year and realized it. Next year it may be tougher, but just out of curiosity I would like to have said to that crowd at the Polo grounds today: "Every fan who thinks I will hang up a new record in 1922 put up his right hand."

As for myself, I'll say that regardless of my total for the present season I'll be out to smash the mark in 1922.

"Is One Church Possible?"
"Is One Church Possible?" was the subject of a very interesting sermon by Evangelist Edwin L. Cain, of Columbus, at the First Christian church, corner of north Main and Farming streets, Wednesday night. He said in part:

"Why is it necessary to have a number of religious bodies and each teaching a different doctrine? Four or five different church missionaries in the foreign countries, each teaching a different doctrine, makes it very confusing to the people never having heard of Jesus Christ.

"There is general unrest all over the world today—religious as well as social, industrial and political. These are indeed, great days in which we live and if the world ever needed the gospel of Jesus Christ it is today. Ten or fifteen or thirty years ago church unity was a very unpopular subject, but it is not today. The church should be one because there is only one body, one church, one faith, one baptism. There must be unity in the message because there is but one gospel; there is unity in organization; there is unity in life, spirit and unity in expectation, because there is only one hope. There is but one God, one Christ. Matters of opinion today are dividing churches—not matters of faith.

"If the churches today would get together and decide on these four questions, there would be more church unity. As a body of believers, what name shall we take? As a united body, what shall we teach? As a united body, how shall we evangelize? As a united body, how shall we be governed?"

Owing to the serious illness of Mrs. Cain in Columbus, Evangelist Cain was compelled to leave Wednesday night after the services. Rev. C. L. Emerick, of near Bucyrus, the regular pastor of the church, will continue the services the balance of the week. Two members were received Wednesday evening, one by the pastor and the other on profession of faith.

GRAND ARMY VETERANS ARE STIRRED BY MOUSER

Judge Pays Glowing Tribute to Old Soldiers.

FRED W. WARNER AND OTHERS CROW ELOQUENT

Annual Picnic of Cooper Post at Garfield Park Is Attended by Over 100.

Civil war battles were fought again yesterday.

Civil war soldiers were thrilled again yesterday.

Speakers brought into play their best flights of oratory again yesterday.

It was old soldiers' day.

The annual picnic of Cooper Post No. 117, G. A. R., was held at Garfield park. The attendance was over 100, of which about fifty were veterans. The picnic dinner was served on tables erected on the east side of the auditorium, and was complete in every detail. The afternoon was given over to speeches, which lasted till 2:30 o'clock.

Veterans and their families began arriving at the grounds before 10 o'clock and continued to arrive in automobiles and on foot until about noon. Rev. J. G. Beard, of the Emanuel Baptist church, asked the blessing.

Immediately following the picnic dinner, the life-and-drum corps entered the auditorium and played martial airs while the crowd filed in, preparatory to hearing the speeches scheduled for the afternoon.

Christian as Chairman.

Colonel George B. Christian was the chairman of the meeting. He called on Rev. D. W. Gow, pastor of the Baptist church at Radnor, to invoke divine blessing.

The first speaker was Judge Grant E. Mouser, who said in part: "I shall not, in the brief time it is possible for me to speak to you members of the G. A. R., paint a picture of dead and dying soldiers. So long as there is light and life in your eyes and you realize that you have played a part in the saving of this country, you do not grow old. You men who left the warmth of fireplaces and the comforts of home to fight for the preservation of this country, realize that true friendships are supreme."

"You have felt that tingle which causes love of man for man. You are the remnant of a great nobility; not as the countries across the sea call a man noble because his ancestors were great in pillage and robbery. The nobility of this country is made up of men who left all that was dear to them for the hell of battle."

"This country was united by the blood of patriots on a thousand battlefields. You men have seen this country make rapid progress; you have seen the wilderness give way and churches spring up. These have been glorious years since the civil war."

Judge Mouser praised President Harding, his friend of many years. "In these times there will be lots of criticism of what the president does and it is for the best that the party in power should be, for it keeps them alert," he continued. "There was a tide of public opinion, stirred by sentimentalists and politicians, which was in favor of the soldiers' bonus. The measure was reported favorably to congress by the committee."

It Took Courage.

"In face of all this, Warren G. Harding had the courage to ask congress not to act on the measure, realizing as he did what it would mean for this country to take four or five billion dollars from the treasury at this time," Judge Mouser, who never spoke more eloquently, was warmly applauded.

In introducing the next speaker, Colonel Christian said: "Some time ago I attended a meeting of cavalry men in Columbus and at that time the need was shown for an order of grandsons of veterans. Our next speaker will be one who is a grandson of a veteran, Fred W. Warner."

Mr. Warner said in part: "When I hear the sound of the life and drum, it thrills me. You are men who took pride in the hard-fought battle and you have handed down to us a heritage that we may well be proud of. Are we carrying on and protecting this heritage? We have heard some express the idea, 'My country, right or wrong.' I say we ought to be for our country when she is right, and when she is wrong make her right."

Old Roman Empire.

"The old Roman empire has long since fallen in the dust. The Egyptians, the Phoenicians and the Babylonians all perished. We shall only live as long as we teach our children homage to the truth. The one thing we need is the desire to do as we would be done by. If we could get the spirit in the people today that you men put into your fight, it would seem as if the sun were coming out after a rain. We must teach our children to deal fairly with other men."

The next speaker to be introduced was Rev. Mr. Beard, who after giving the derivative of the word, patriot, said in part:

"Patriotism is not that quality that makes people yell themselves hoarse. It has a deeper meaning. It is even more than just a love of country. It is love of man for his fellowmen. We need more of this spirit and it is more clearly illustrated by the example of the Son of God."

Mrs. Benjamin George spoke on "Reminiscences," saying that she believed that the purpose of all lives was planned, and the accomplishment was up to the individual.

Rev. Mr. Gow, of Radnor, was the next speaker. He told of the struggles of his early youth due to the loss of his father in the civil war and of the fight he waged to secure education. He said in part:

"Education is the one thing this country needs educated boys and girls. The church is the finest institution on this earth. But not all the education and religion of this country were able to stop slavery. You men were the ones that stopped the spread of it by your fight."

"I do not believe in war, but some wars are necessary and I am proud of what my father did."

The concluding address was by Horace White, of Radnor, aged ninety-four, member of Scioto Post No. 257, the oldest veteran present at the picnic, said:

"When the first gun was fired on Fort Sumter, I said that never would this piece of mud be divided while I lived. I put two years and ten months of the best part of my life in the service of my country and I am proud of my flag every time I see it."

Letter from Pershing.

In adjourning the meeting Chairman Christian mentioned a letter that he had received from General Pershing who said there were 17,

054 unidentified soldiers killed in this war. Colonel Christian added that there were 35,000 unknown dead in the civil. He also told of the feelings of the boys of '61-65 when President Grant opposed a bonus measure then. The boys soon learned that Grant was right and now the veterans of the civil war are pensioned better than those of any country in the world, he said. As the meeting adjourned, the life-and-drum corps played "Marching Through Georgia."

The picnic was in charge of a committee of which Dr. George T. Harding was chairman, assisted by Schiller Folger and Levi Roseberry. The committee of veterans was assisted by a committee from the Daughters of Veterans. Arrangements were made for sending lunches to the veterans who were unable to attend on account of sickness, three being sent to Caledonia.

GROCERS' CHARGE AGAINST PACKERS

Claim Packers Try To Control Whole Food Supply.

New York, Sept. 16.—Charges that the "big five" packers of Chicago are "again attempting to secure control of the entire general food supply of the country in addition to the meat supply," were made by the National Wholesale Grocers' association. The charges, which were voiced by Sylvan L. Stix, treasurer of the association, added that "apparently the 'big five' will have the active support of the attorney general's office in scraping governmental restrictions that were thrown about them after years of public agitation."

"Unbelievable as it may appear, the attorney general is reported to be considering modification of the 'consent decree,' which was acceded to by the 'big five' in 1920 and under which they were prohibited from engaging in the canning, manufacturing, wholesaling and retailing of general food products," Stix said.

London, Sept. 16.—An address for circulation in Methodist churches throughout the world was drawn up by the Methodist conference. It calls for an aggressive militant Christianity, and continues:

We have heard the call for a union of churches. Our first duty is to heal our own divisions and to call our Methodist family to greater unity than we now enjoy."

The conference sent fraternal greetings to the assembly of German evangelical churches now meeting in Stuttgart and adopted a resolution thanking the American government for providing a site in Washington for a statue to Bishop Francis Ashbury considered the founder of Methodism in the United States. ## A REMARKABLE GAIN IN BUILDING-LOAN ASSETS

Marion's Institutions of That Kind Most Prosperous.

ASSETS OF $7,226,411 AS AGAINST $6,936,026

Rate of Growth Would Cure Housing Ills State Superintendent Says.

Building-loan and savings associations in Marion county made a remarkable gain in assets during the last fiscal year, according to the annual report just completed by John W. Prugh, state superintendent of building and loan associations. Official figures show a net increase of $290,385. Assets of the four building-loan and savings institutions for the fiscal year ended June 30 were $7,226,411 as against $6,936,026 for the previous year, a gain of approximately five per cent.

There were three building-and-loan institutions in Marion county ten years ago with assets totalling only $1,627,323. During this period the gain in assets has been nearly 346 per cent or $5,599,488.

Will Cure Housing Ills.
Housing illis will be remedied easily if this rate of growth is continued during the next ten years, according to building-and-loan officials.

In announcing the gain made by the building and loans of this county, State Superintendent Prugh took occasion to praise these institutions. He declared that they had rendered a service of incalculable value to the public in providing funds for home building, more than half of all the people in this county having some connection with building-and-loan institutions. He declared the building-loan and savings institutions had fully lived up to expectations by loaning practically ninety-four per cent of their funds for home financing.

Prugh declared that home building would take a decided boom this coming year if the building-and-loan institutions were given the savings of the public with which to finance construction.

ARBUCKLE IN COURT TODAY

Must Stand Trial for First-Degree Murder.

ANNOUNCEMENT IS BLOW TO DEFENSE

Prisoner Expects To Gain Liberty Under Bond, but Must Wait Trial in Jail.

San Francisco, Sept. 16.—Roscus "Fatty" Arbuckle must face a charge of murder. At 10:45 he was led into the courtroom of Judge Sylvian Lazarus and the hall filled.

Roscus Arbuckle, charged with murder. District Attorney Matthew Brady then announced: "The state is ready to proceed with the prosecution of the charge." Arbuckle had waited cheerfully twenty minutes in the chambers of the judge before facing the crowd of women that packed the courtroom in the expectation that the state would drop the charge of murder and permit his release. On bail, pending a trial on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Virginia Rappe, film actress, who died following a gay booze party in the rooms of the film comedian at the St. Francis hotel.

At one time a crowd of men that numbered more than 1,000 and filled the corridors of the Hall of Justice to overflowing had broken the locked doors of the women's courtroom where Arbuckle appeared and surged in. The people were forcibly ejected.

The announcement of the prosecutor felt like a bolt from the blue to the defendant and his attorneys. Immediately Frank Dominguez, chief of counsel, was on his feet demanding a continuance for ten days. District Attorney Brady opposed such a long continuance, but agreed to five days.

Judge Lazarus finally continued the case until next Thursday at 1 p. m.

To Stay in Jail.

Dominguez fought hard for the ten days' delay. "Certainly," he said, "if the defendant, Roscoe Arbuckle, is willing to remain in jail ten days to permit his attorney to gather evidence in his behalf, the state of California can be magnanimous enough to grant him that period of delay."

"We have nothing but praise for the energetic manner in which the officials of the state are conducting this case and we appreciate that they are doing their duty, but in view of the fact that there is much important medical testimony to be presented here with which we are at present unfamiliar, we feel that ten days is not too long a delay to grant us."

District Attorney Brady told the court that the only reason the state had in opposing the ten days' continuance was its desire for speedy justice.

Judge Lazarus spoke along the same vein and announced the continuance until next Thursday.

Arbuckle was led out of court almost instantly following the continuance. He was taken up a side elevator to the city jail from which he had come confidently expecting to be released when he entered the courtroom.

With the startling change in expected plans, announcement came that arraignment on the manslaughter charge before Judge Harold Landbeck in superior court would not be held until tomorrow at 10 a. m. Thus ended Arbuckle's court scenes for today.

In Police Court.

San Francisco, Sept. 16.—Roscus "Fatty" Arbuckle was scheduled to go to police court today almost exclusively today.

But the attorneys for the heavy-weight film comedian fully anticipated this strenuous day "on location" in police court will result in the freedom of Arbuckle's bail pending trial on a charge of manslaughter for the death of Virginia Rappe, film actress.

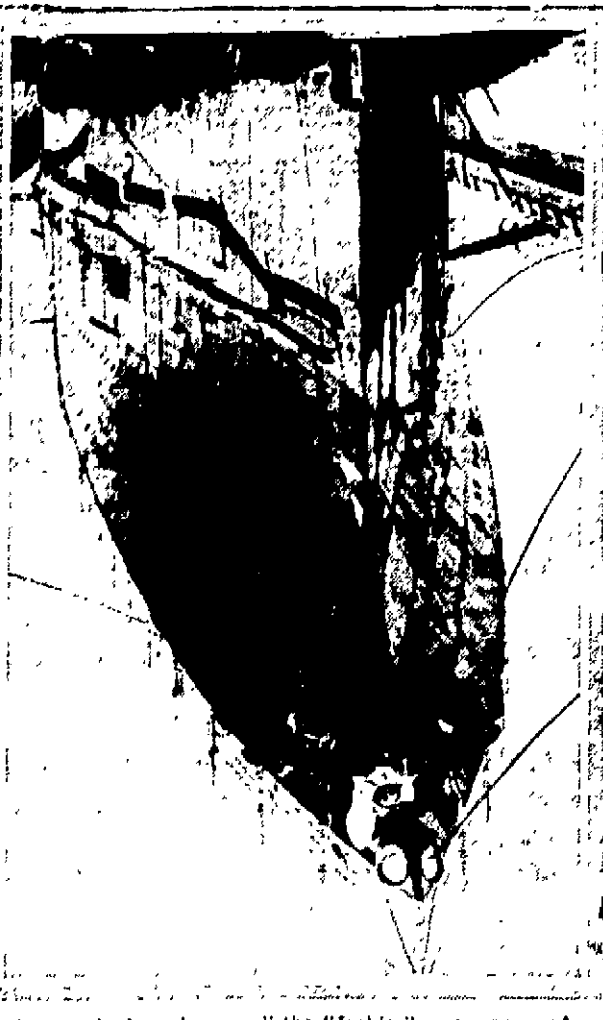

The rapid-fire police court scenes were to run something like this: 1—Appearance before Judge O'Brien for dismissal of the original technical murder charge filed by the police.

2—Appearance before Judge Lazarus to learn whether the state intends to prosecute the murder charge even to the point of demanding a trial. Although District Attorney Brady has given no intimation of his intention, it is expected Arbuckle will not have to face this charge.

3—Appearance before Superior Judge Harold Landbeck to permit the fixing of the date of the manslaughter trial. If the district attorney elects to press it instead of the murder charge.

Arbuckle will go free on bail as soon as the murder charge is dismissed—if it is dropped. His counsel, in anticipation of what they believe will be the district attorney's action, placed last night with the bond and warrant clerk of the Hall of Justice a deposit of $5,000 cash and obtained a receipt for it.

Presentation of this receipt after dismissal of the murder charge will be sufficient to obtain his freedom on bail, unless Judge Landbeck elects to boost the bail set yesterday by Presiding Judge Shortall in the Arbuckle case. This is not expected.

District Attorney Brady, his several assistants, Chief of Police O'Brien and Captain of Detectives Matheson were in long conference last night and at the close of the conference Brady said no decision had been reached as to pressing the murder charge and that none could be reached until this morning, when the prisoner was brought into court.

He made it plain, however, that an early trial on one of the charges could be expected. In fact, it would not be surprising to see the trial under way within the next three weeks.

One of the witnesses sought by District Attorney Brady has been located. She is Mrs. Mae Taube and it is believed she is one of the fourteen witnesses that the defense is depending upon. In a preliminary statement she declared that she telephoned for the house manager at the St. Francis and not Mrs. Delmont, as the latter has testified. She is understood, also, to be prepared to give testimony considerably at variance to that of Mrs. Delmont on other particulars. She claims that she was not present throughout the party, but went up near its close at the request of Arbuckle to calm his guests. She denied that she has been in hiding from the district attorney.

MOVIE LAND TO BE CLEANED UP

Federal Prohibition Agents Start Big Drive.

AROUSED TO ACTION BY ARBUCKLE PARTY

District Attorney Places Information Regarding Liquor Use in Hands of Agents.

San Francisco, Sept. 16.—Ten special agents of the federal prohibition enforcement division were today enroute to "movie land." They were sent on direct orders of Special Attorney General Robert H. McCormick, who ordered a complete investigation of conditions in Hollywood, home of the movies and other motion-picture centers around Los Angeles.

E. Forrest Mitchell, state enforcement agent, is already in Los Angeles and it is believed that the orders of McCormick were issued following advice from him on conditions disclosed.

District Attorney Brady turned over at a conference with the federal prosecutor all of the evidence he had obtained with reference to the use of liquor at Arbuckle's gay hotel party here.

It was reported here, today, that this evidence indicated that something like forty quarts of whiskey and a case of gin were consumed in the three days the Arbuckle party lasted. McCormick would not discuss the issue. Federal prohibition officials are understood to hold that at least part of this liquor was brought up to San Francisco from Los Angeles in Arbuckle's automobile in which he made the trip. Should this be substantiated, federal officers said, the $25,000 car would be seized by the government.

"No matter how high the investigation reaches, spare no one," McCormick told his agent today. "The guilty must be punished. The conditions must be so changed that another 'Fatty' Arbuckle orgy will be rendered impossible. Such orgies are a disgrace to the whole country. Once and for all, they must be stopped."

An indication that orders had come from Washington for a thorough clean-up of the whole situation, was seen not only in McCormick's activity but also in the fact that John Enclave, field agent of the Rockies for the national prohibition commissioner, is also on his way to Los Angeles to head a flying squadron.

EIGHTY PER CENT. OF CORN CROP IS SAFE

Will Not Be Damaged by Early Frosts in Ohio.

Columbus, Sept. 16.—That over eighty per cent. of Ohio's corn crop will not be damaged by early frosts is the claim made by C. J. West, federal crop statistician here. In his weekly report on crop conditions, he predicted that, although the wheat acreage has been materially reduced in some places, the acreage plowed for wheat will be about the same as last year.

Farm labor is said to be plentiful, farmers in some sections paying hourly wages. The state-wide average for corn shucking is placed at 9 1/2 cents a shock, the pay ranging from five to fifteen cents a shock.

TO CHANGE RELIGION.

Paris, Sept. 16.—A French diplomat was reported today to be in Rome attempting to obtain permission from Pope Benedict for the family of Duchess de Guise to change religion so that one of the daughters can marry King Alexander of Serbia. The de Guise family is a branch of the Bourbon-Orléans house, pretenders to the French throne. There are two daughters of marriageable age, Princess Isabelle, twenty-one and Princess Françoise, nineteen.

Asks Protection.

Mansfield, Sept. 16.—Women now enjoy full rights with men in this county. Richard Braden, of Shelby, has asked the probate court to enjoin his wife, Mary Braden, from coming to their home as he fears she will do him bodily harm. He says she has assaulted him and beaten him. Further, Braden claims he fears to let her cook for fear she will poison him. Braden is asking for a divorce. They were married in Norway.

Fatally Injured.

Cincinnati, Sept. 16.—W. H. Lehnitz, lumberman, was fatally injured, this morning, when his automobile ran away with him. Lehnitz was standing beside the car when it started down Kemper lane. He jumped in, but was unable to control it and after knocking down a water pipe, struck an iron electric light pole, throwing Lehnitz on his head fracturing his skull.

Market Irregular.

New York, Sept. 16.—The stock market closed irregular today. Government bonds unchanged; railroad and other bonds irregular.

London, Sept. 16.—A demand for a new conference that shall not be hampered or limited by any conditions, was telegraphed to Premier Lloyd George in Scotland today by Eamon de Valera, president of the Irish republic, according to word received from Dublin tonight.

This action of de Valera, while precipitous, was not unexpected. He has fought steadily for a renewal of the peace negotiations on a basis which would permit him to go into the meeting without any handicaps.

How Tire And Gear Changes Affect The Speedometer

SOMETIMES A CHANGE IS MADE in the diameter of the tires used upon a car and occasionally the bevel gear and pinion are changed for gears of different numbers of teeth in order to secure a higher or lower driving ratio. Both alterations necessitate a corresponding change in the driving gears of the speedometer or it will indicate incorrectly. For example, suppose that the speedometer is operated from a front wheel, and the front tires are changed from 22 3/8 to 23 1/2 inch. With the larger tires, the car will travel 3.1 per cent. further for each wheel turn than formerly, but as the mileage indication is based upon the wheel turns, credit will not be given for the additional mileage covered and when 100 miles have actually been traveled the odometer will show but 99 miles. Speed indications are also proportionally low and a change in the speedometer gears is required. Changing rear tire size or final drive ratio, does not affect the accuracy of a front driven speedometer. Now suppose that the speedometer is driven from the transmission. A change of front wheel tire size will not affect its indications but altering rear tire diameter produces exactly the same error as changing front tire size does with the front-driven speedometer. The transmission driven speedometer indication depends upon drive shaft turns and is thus affected by changes in the final gear ratio. If the final drive ratio is made lower, the rear wheels travel a long distance for each drive shaft turn and the mileage indication is greater than it should be and vice versa. For example, substituting a 4 to 1 ratio for a 4 1/2 to 1 ratio will make the car run almost 13 per cent. further for each propeller shaft turn than it formerly did and, when the mileage indicated is 100 the actual mileage will be about 113. The corrective change of speedometer gears required is obtainable from the speedometer maker, but it is sometimes quite a job to make it.

DIFFERENTIATING ENGINE NOISES

S. E. T. asks: Is there any positive way in which a piston slap can be differentiated from a bearing knock? I have a noise in my engine which I believe is caused by which mechanism differs in case it is a piston slap, and rebores is required, will all the cylinders have to be rebored or only the one which has the slapping piston?

Answer: Positive diagnosis is difficult. If a cylinder has very low compression and its valves and rings are all right, the chances are that the piston is very loose and in a condition to slap. The temporary use of very heavy cylinder oil will sometimes prevent a piston from slapping, thus indicating that it occurs with oil of ordinary body. Sometimes, by listening at different parts of an engine, with a device like a stethoscope, a noise can be located at a piston or in a bearing. As a rule a loose piston slaps worst when the throttle is suddenly opened and is a sort of metallic clattering sound, while a main bearing knock occurs mostly under heavy load and low speed and is of a heavier, duller and more jarring nature. In reboring, all cylinders should be treated alike and given the same diameter, or the engine will not run sweetly, especially at high speeds.

FLUSHING THE ENGINE LUBRICATING SYSTEM

F. S. A. asks: Will it harm my engine if I drain out the old oil and put in kerosene to wash out the sediment?

Answer: No, this is the treatment generally recommended, but you should be sure that all the kerosene is removed before you supply the fresh oil or otherwise the lubricating qualities of the latter will be diminished. You should also take care that the oil strainer is cleaned before fresh oil is supplied. The usual practice is to crank the engine over by hand or with the starter a hundred turns or so, to clean the strainer and then put in the fresh oil. Sometimes a mixture of one-third oil and two-thirds kerosene, instead of pure kerosene, is used in flushing, as being less likely to thin the fresh oil, in case the kerosene liquid cannot be all removed from the system.

Questions of general interest to the motorist will be answered by Mr. Clough in this column, space permitting. If an immediate answer is desired, enclose self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ordered Executed.

Copenhagen, Sept. 15.—The extraordinary commission of the Russian soviet has ordered 530 persons executed at Kiel for plotting against the Bolshevik government, according to a report from Moscow by the newspaper, Politiken, today.

Loses His Money

Columbus, Sept. 16.—Police were informed today by Cattle Risner, Gypsy, Kentucky, that he lost $25 while playing in a penny-matching game after meeting two strangers at Third and Chestnut streets, late last night.

An Invitation.

Columbus, Sept. 16.—Invitation to visit Columbus about December 1, next may be sent to Premier Lloyd George, of England by officials of the Welsh Presbyterian church here, who wish him to dedicate their new church on Miami avenue.

OBJECTIVES OF OHIO SCHOOLS

Outlined by State Director of Education Riegel.

HEALTH IS MOST IMPORTANT POINT

Knowledge Without Health Is Worthless—Children Must Care for Themselves.

Columbus, Sept. 16.—"Of what use is knowledge when the owner does not possess health to use it?" asked State Director of Education Riegel, addressing the county health commissioners here.

"I'd rather have my child learn to take care of himself the first five years in school than any single item in the curriculum," continued Director Riegel. He designated the objectives of the Ohio public schools in the following order: Health, home, vocation, citizenship, character, ability to employ leisure time.

Announcement of establishment of seventeen new tuberculosis clinics in Ohio is planned this year, was made by Dr. R. G. Leland, of the state health department.

Dr. R. G. Patterson, Ohio Public Health association, declared that, with the population increasing, the number of deaths due to tuberculosis are decreasing at the rate of 1,500 annually.

Health In State.

Columbus, Sept. 16.—Addressing the meeting of the district health commissioners of Ohio here, State Health Director Snively deplored the lack of attention given to combating the spread of diseases in Ohio.

He said only ten cents per capita is being spent by the state for the promotion of public health and the prevention of the spread of diseases, contagious and hereditary.

AMERICANS WILL HAVE INFORMATION

Will Know Where Navies Stand When Conference Is Begun.

Washington, Sept. 16.—When the American "Big Four" enters the November armament conference, American experts will have at their finger tips stacks of data which reveal minutely the extent to which some foreign powers, notably Japan, have publicly underestimated their true expenditures for armament.

Treasury department experts, tabulating these documents for ready reference by Secretary of State Hughes and American delegates, are today making comparisons of budgets for years back and making a careful check to show where discrepancies are due to "concealed military expenses" in the form of subsidies which have been extended by the governments.

SACRAMENTAL-WINE ORDER IS ISSUED

Dry Authorities Seek To Have Church Supply Cut.

Washington, Sept. 16.—The internal revenue bureau today ordered a more liberal allowance of sacramental wines for use by religious organizations in their rites.

Tentative regulations drawn by the prohibition unit, curtailing the amount of sacramental wines which it is permissible to purchase were held up and ordered redrafted, with more "liberal" provisions.

Prohibition authorities sought to reduce an allowance of ten gallons a year maximum for Jewish families to one gallon a year for each member of such family.

Manslaughter Charge.

Mt. Vernon, Sept. 16.—Charges of manslaughter, according to Knox county officials, will be filed against Dwight Kunkle, twenty-three, Amity, Montgomery county, under arrest here today. Kunkle is an employee of the state highway department and is accused of being the driver of a truck which is alleged to have caused the death of Oscar H. Harding, Columbus, near here Wednesday night.

It took exactly 15 years to develop the flavor, crispness and texture of
